

ENTRIES FOR FAIR CLOSE SEPT. 9

SCHOOLS RE OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 5TH FOR FALL TERM

Wainwright Schools reopen for the fall term on September 5th the day following Labor Day.

Everyone interested in school work, and that should include every person over the age of six years in the school district, should make a point of being on the grounds that morning.

The opening ceremonies will be brief but interesting. After the ceremony of raising the flag, the chairman will present certificates to those making perfect attendance records for the last two years. Other appropriate exercises will round out an hour that can be well spared by every parent having children of school age.

Present indications point to a capacity attendance in all grades. Students are advised to place their orders for books and other supplies as early as possible, to give their stationer sufficient time to stock up with them.

The staff for the coming year is as follows:—Grade I Miss Hazel Strang, Grade II and III Miss Bessie Parsons, Grade IV and V Miss J. Strang, Grade VI and VII Miss McAllister, Grades IX, X, XI, XII, W. S. Brodie (Prin.).

HUNTINGFORD—ISTEED NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED ON SEPTEMBER 22ND

A very pretty house wedding was celebrated on August 22nd at the home of the bride's father on Fifth Ave., when Miss Nellie May, youngest daughter of Mr. Chas. Isteed, one of the pioneers of this district, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter J. Huntingford, B. Sc., M. A., the ceremony being conducted by the Rev. R. Kells Swenerton, B.A., B. D.

The charming bride, who was given away by her father, was handsomely gowned in a costume of ivory charmeuse silk, trimmed with silk shadow lace and pearls with gloves and shoes to match and wore the conventional wreath and veil.

After the wedding luncheon, at which only a few immediate relatives and friends were present, the happy couple left on the west bound train en route for the mountains where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride's travelling dress being a suit of navy blue taffeta silk, with georgette crepe silk waist, and picture hat to match.

OCTOBER 9TH LIKELY DAY SET FOR THANKSGIVING

It is understood that Thanksgiving day will be fixed for Monday, Oct. 9th. The official order in council will be passed shortly. During the past few years Thanksgiving day has been fixed for Monday instead of the traditional Thursday. The change has met with such favor that Monday from now on will be Thanksgiving day.

Early in October is found to be a more suitable time for Canada than the last Thursday in November, as in the United States.

Divine Service will be held at 8 o'clock on Sunday Afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Intending Exhibitors Are Urged To Hurry Entries For Big Fair

If you have not started on your exhibit for the Wainwright fair, don't lose any time but get busy at once. You can do a great deal in the remaining days, but see that they all count. Do not excuse yourself from competing by saying, "There is no chance of my winning a prize." Last year referring to the children's section particularly several good prizes were taken by single entries. That is not at all in accordance with the purpose of the fair. We want plenty of competition in every line. Your name does not appear on the exhibit, and no one knows who you are unless you are a prize winner.

Some intending competitors who are making collections of plants and insects have had difficulty in finding the correct names for their specimens. Where possible, both common and scientific names should be discovered; put the specimen in nevertheless; for after all, the greatest credit will be given for neatness of mounting and arrangement.

In story writing, prizes are offered amounting to eleven dollars and fifty cents. The subjects suggested are of living interest to every one in the fair district. The judges want plenty of work in these entries, so don't spare them. Write on only one side of your paper, remember your rules of composition, and use your best writing. All writing is to be in ink. All entries must, of course be shown for the first time, and consist of work done since last Fair Day.

In needlework and cookery, the coming housewives of the district have an excellent chance of showing what they can do. Every girl under eighteen should have an exhibit in one of these sections. Practice on the home folks, and have your supreme effort ready for Monday September 11th.

Finally, make your entries to

BUGGIES WERE OUT-NUMBERED

At the Brandon Fair, recently a reporter for the Free Press Farmer and a police official counted 350 motor cars parked inside and outside the grounds.

There were 180 Fords in the line, or 51 per cent of the entire total. The next closest percentage for other makes of cars tapered down to 1 and less.

One significant fact noted, was that there were eight cars to every buggy on the grounds.

Miss K. Scott, Olds, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. J. W. Stuart for three weeks returned to her home on Friday last.

Owing to a few discharges of medically unfit for overseas service there is room for a few men in "D" Co., 151st Battalion, Sgt. E. K. Smith, will be pleased to furnish particulars and to sign on men who have been examined by the doctor.

AERIAL RAID IS FUTILE

German Bombs Dropped in British Field. LONDON, Aug. 24.—The east coast of England was visited again last night by a hostile aircraft which dropped bombs in this field but did no damage. The British official statement concerning the raid says:

"A hostile aircraft crossed the east coast shortly before midnight last night. A number of incendiary and some high explosive bombs were dropped in open fields. No damage nor casualties are reported. The aircraft was seen before 1 o'clock this morning."

have your exhibits on the Fair Grounds before ten o'clock Monday morning. Write to Sery, S. R. Bowerman to mail you a prize list containing an entry blank. Fill this out and mail it to Mr. Bowerman, Wainwright. He will list your entry and make out a ticket to be given you when you bring in your articles.

BELIEVES WAINWRIGHT BOY RECOMMENDED FOR THE D. C. M.

In a letter to the Wainwright Star, dated July 4th, Pte. Allen Newport has the following to say:

"I am writing you a line from the trenches where the bullets and shells are plentiful and very unfriendly, and I hope that my news will be interesting to the old friends of Cecil Preisig, of Wainwright, who left here with the 49th Battalion. At the time of writing I believe he has been recommended for the Distinguished Conduct Medal, for helping a wounded comrade back to safety under heavy shell fire, which was a heavy piece of work."

ALL LIEN NOTE RENEWALS MUST BE RE-REGISTERED

At the last session of the legislature an amendment was made to the Ordinance respecting Hire Receipts and Conditional Sales providing that in order to preserve the rights contained therein, a renewal statement of the amount still due for principal and interest and of all payments made on account of Lien notes and hire receipts shall be filed within thirty days of the expiration of two years from the first filing, and thereafter renewals shall be filed within thirty days of the expiration of one year from the day of the farmer filing. Where the first filing was made two years or more before the passing of the amendment the renewal shall be filed within six months of the date of the amendment.

The amendment was passed on the 10th day of April, 1916, so that the time for registering renewals of Lien notes and hire receipts originally filed two years or more prior to the 19th day of April last will expire on the 18th day of October next.

Renewals must have an affidavit attached setting forth that the statement is true and the sale or bailment writing is not kept on foot for any fraudulent purpose or to defeat, delay or prejudice creditors and they must be filed in the registration district where the property is situated at the time of making of the statement. Parties holding lien notes or hire receipts who do not file renewal statements as required lose their lien on the goods or chattels.

A car of clydesdale horses were purchased by Archibald Crawford from Wallace McGregor of Viking on Friday. These fine animals will be shipped to Wainwright tomorrow for use on Mr. Crawford's farm east of town.

MIGHTY WHEAT SHIP LEAVES PORT ARTHUR

An interesting problem in arithmetic is suggested by the departure from Port Arthur of the freight carrier, the W. M. Macdonald, for Port Moresby, oil, with the largest wheat cargo the world has seen. The ship carried 100,720 bushels of wheat, a quantity which, if ground into flour would produce 109,050 barrels or 32,050,700 loaves of bread. This quantity would suffice to feed the entire population of the Dominion for four and a half days.

The arrival in a British Port of one such ship would exercise a market, and it is a simple problem in arithmetic to estimate the number of such units necessary in a fleet of wheat ships carrying flour sufficient to maintain the populace of those islands, or the armies of Europe for a stipulated period.

MAJOR DANIEL WILL COMMAND LATEST BATTALION

Major. Henry M. Daniel, a returned veteran of the famous 49th, will be placed in command of the Casualty battalion which is about to be formed in this district. There will be no more discharges from the Canadian army from now until the end of the war, and returned soldiers, as well as those left behind by departing units because of sickness, will be enrolled in this unit, which will do police, guard and fatigue work in the district.

Maj. Daniel, who is one of the best known officers in Alberta, Dragoons, but when Col. Griesbach, D. S. O. formed the 49th battalion at Edmonton he was taken on its strength and given the post of second-in-command. With this unit he saw considerable fighting and, being wounded in the battle of St. Eloi, was eventually invalided home. He enlisted in Edmonton, December 30, 1914. Maj. Daniel is at present in Calgary having come down from Edmonton to confer with Col. Thompson, who is in the city making arrangements for the formation of this casualty unit.

A BADGE WILL INDICATE POSITION HE IS TAKING

The recent order-in-council giving effect to a plan of modified registration, causes no surprise in view of the practically unsatisfactory of recruiting. Registration will show where our men stand, and why the armies in the field are not getting the men they need. Our industrial army are indeed second in importance to our army in khaki, and yet something should be done towards recruiting these industrial armies.

The time has not yet arrived when compulsory service is necessary, but if there should be a slump in enlisting, or if the war should be unduly prolonged or develop a desperate situation then we may confidently expect to see the government undertake an experiment, full of moment in the history of the Dominion.

In the meantime every man is to be registered, and his badge will indicate the position he takes with regard to this great crisis in our national life.

RECRUITING A SUGGESTION

RECRUITING all over the country is almost at a standstill. During the entire months of July only 8,552 men were enrolled. A month's recruiting failed to secure as many men as were killed, wounded, and taken prisoners in the fierce fighting of early June around Hooge. The total enrollment to the end of July was 354,528, and the actual number of Canadian effectives fit for field service must have decreased by thousands during the month.

This is from the Toronto Globe and that paper goes on to show that like the west some of the eastern English speaking districts have done far more than their quota and then the Globe continues:—"Has any organized endeavor been made to convince the French-Canadian people that the war is to them not a 'foreign event,' but that in very truth, as Captain Papineau has declared, the continuance of the liberties and privileges of the French-Canadian people is at stake on the battlefields of Europe as well as the existence of their motherland, France?"

Then comes the Calgary Herald dealing with the question of recent riots and arrests resulting from recruiting rallies in Quebec, and gives "a suggestion" which might readily apply as an answer to the Globe in these words:—"It does not seem possible for English-speaking leaders to handle the Quebec situation with respect to recruiting; how would it do to try the French-Canadian leaders for awhile? From time to time Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Lemieux and others of French descent have made recruiting speeches to their compatriots in Quebec province. Why not hand over the business of recruiting there to them? They have said that they are heart and soul with Britain in the war and that they believe Canada should do even more than it is doing to assist the mother country. As leaders of the French-Canadian people they should be willing to act as recruiting officers."

Perhaps the suggestion might be put into force with good effect. It is worth a trial anyway.

PRICE OF BREAD TRENDS UPWARDS

THE UPWARD movement in the price of flour is significant. At the National Association of Master Bakers' meeting in Salt Lake city recently, it was prophesied that the price of bread would be ten cents a loaf throughout the United States within a short time, a rise of one hundred per cent.

Following the outbreak of the war, Calgary raised prices to fourteen 24 ounce loaves for one dollar. Edmonton held at its old price of sixteen 24 ounce loaves for the same money but on Monday last the Master Bakers of that city announced through their secretary that the price would go up to that of Calgary and at this, is now in force. Values throughout the west vary considerably. Lethbridge for example sells a 20 ounce loaf at 5 cents while Vancouver charges 5 cents for 14 ounces.

A shortage in the grain supply of this continent, increased cost of flour or heavier demand abroad are the things which might produce the higher price of bread. But so far as the former condition is concerned there, seems little to justify the millers and bakers in the north west to lay the burden of a higher priced flour and bread upon the people. But the increased demand in Europe actual and probable—may seriously affect the markets of our Dominion and of the United States.

The excuse of the Edmonton Master Bakers for advancing prices is given as the trend upwards in the cost of flour. This may or may not be due to demand abroad.

ALLIES NOW IN TWO FOLD SUPERIORITY

"I AM THOROUGHLY convinced that the Allies are in two-fold superiority to the Germans."

"To be perfectly truthful, the Germans were a nation much stronger than we ever imagined. What they have done in the last two years will remain a marvellous monument in the history of the world."

"But what has made them so strong is their organization and preparation in military matters. Their advantage no longer exists. The Allies by practice and experience have accomplished all that the Germans had perfected."

"All that remains of Germany today is her national unity, which is the fundamental element of her strength. But I have come to wonder how long such unity can withstand the strain of the dangers which threaten."

"German unity is artificial rather than national. Their discipline lacks elasticity and cannot last. Anyway the development of the war is entirely favorable to the Allies."

This opinion is valuable in-as-much as it comes from Admiral Aki Yama, who, as aide to Admiral Togo, planned the battle of Tsushima. He is now on his way to Japan after visiting all of the Allied Countries.

WAR PRISONERS RECEIVE RED CROSS PARCELS

One of the admirable features of Canadian Red Cross Work is the provision made for supplying Canadian Prisoners of War with clothes and other comforts, and weekly parcels of food. For this purpose a special fund has been created, and in addition, by arrangement with the Government Authorities, any Canadian Prisoner has the privilege of assigning part of his pay to the Red Cross, which in return will send him such goods as he desires and the German Authorities permit.

Some people confess to doubt whether the prisoners actually receive these parcels. The Red Cross has had however many letters from Canadian prisoners in Germany. Many of them are published from month to month in the Red Cross Bulletin.

A prisoner in Giessen stated, "I received my first parcel of food through the Canadian Red Cross on November 25th, and since then they have been coming regularly. I have also had shirts, underwear, socks, gloves, muffler, blanket, overcoat, sweater and a pair of slippers. All here join in thanking the Red Cross for their kindness."

No. 27501, a sergeant in the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, writes from the prison camp of Alten Grabow, "We have been looked after most splendidly by the Red Cross Society, and I can assure you that we all have received ample under-clothing and outer-clothing and boots. We are also receiving bread from Bern."

Another sergeant who is imprisoned in Giessen acknowledges the receipt of a gramophone, boxing gloves and a football, in addition to special parcels from Montreal.

There are innumerable other letters of a similar nature, and there is not the least doubt that the Canadian Red Cross, owing to the special privileges conferred on Red Cross Societies by the Hague Convention, is the best medium through which to communicate with Canadian prisoners in Germany.

ESCAPED CONVICT CAUGHT

PRESENT YEAR IMPORTANT ONE IN LIVESTOCK

OTTAWA, Aug. 19.—Since he returned last May from the south, after recuperating from the serious injuries received in the disastrous parliament buildings fire, Hon. Mr. Burrell has been steadily attending to the work of his own department, in addition to that of one or two others in the absence of ministers. Mr. Burrell leaves next week for British Columbia and was asked for a statement in regard to live stock matters.

"There are many reasons," said the minister why the present time is a particularly important one in the history of the live stock industry of Canada. The depletion of the herds of the various countries affected by the war; the demand for meat products, and consequent rise in prices; the shifting of trade channels; the tremendous grain crop of last year and the large supply of fodder crops this year, are some of the reasons which should greatly stimulate production."

Work of Department
Asked as to the special line of work which his department was doing, Mr. Burrell stated that various lines of new work were being taken up, and there had been a steady expansion of other activities which had been set in motion during the past five years.

"The said statement that we are spending five times the amount in live stock work that we were the first year I came into office does not cover the case satisfactorily. Half a million dollars spent in a public building may, or may not, be a useful national expenditure, but half a million spent along educational and aggressive lines of live stock work, means productive results of immense value to the nation."

Poultry and Sheep

"Let me illustrate with what has been accomplished in the case of poultry and sheep. Only a short while ago the general methods, or want of methods, in handling eggs was such that there was great satisfaction either to the producer, the trader, or the consumer. For years we have been heavy importers, and our exports were a negligible. In 1913 Canada imported roughly twelve million dozen eggs and exported about 125,000 dozen. A strong educational campaign was started. We secured the services of a number of energetic export men and, starting in Prince Edward Island, assisted in forming associations for cooperative live stock marketing methods of collecting, handling and packing eggs, with the result that a tremendous stimulus has been given to the whole industry."

Quality Improved

"As a part of the work special attention had been given to culling demonstrations, with the object of improving the quality and encouraging given to standardization. The work has been gradually extended during the past three years and has unquestionably resulted in closer attention to poultry and in increased production."

"This work if not responsible for all, is at least responsible for part of the startling and extraordinary difference in the trade situation for the past two years."

Sheep Herds are Few

"As to sheep, we have far fewer sheep in Canada than our neighbors, and the high price of both wool and mutton is naturally stimulating interest in the business. But, here again, lack of method has resulted in discouragement. We were asked to render assistance, especially in respect to wool, for which markets had been most unsatisfactory. I appointed some four years ago an officer with special qualifications and subsequently the department undertook to supply expert assistance to sheep raisers and wool associations to enable them to classify and grade the product. Approximately 1,000,000 pounds of wool have been graded by our officers and it is estimated that the grading enhanced the price to producers about four cents per pound."

In addition to this the department has prepared a most comprehensive exhibit of wool, highly educational in character, which is shown at all leading fairs of the country.

Exhibition of Blooded Stock
"What about the distribution of pure bred animals by the department?" Mr. Burrell was asked. "I fear I have not time to go into that. We inaugurated that work in 1913, in the belief that in many sections of the country the quality of live stock was deteriorating, owing to the impossibility of securing pure bred sires and Mr. Bright, our livestock commissioner has given special attention to this work. We have abundant proof that the scheme has done an incalculable amount of good. 1,340 bulls, 135 sows, and 43 horses and 1,069 rams, that were purchased by the department and distributed for the purposes mentioned are in the hands of the various associations."

1916 CROP IS ESTIMATED

James Carruthers of Montreal Says There Will Be 165,000,000 Bushels. MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—"I have come to the conclusion that if we have 165,000,000 bushels of wheat this year in the three Canadian Northwest provinces, that is all that can be expected," said James Carruthers, a prominent grain merchant who returned yesterday from a five weeks' trip through the Canadian wheat belt and to the Pacific Coast.

"There is no doubt that Manitoba will raise only about half the crop it did last year. There should be a carry over of about 50,000,000 bushels of old wheat this year, and this will, of course, help to make up the deficiency."

Discussing prices, he said: "If this year's crop is only about half of last year's, the price of wheat will be about 30 cents a bushel in wheat would take place."

THE INSIDIOUS HOUSE FLY

Flies may carry the germs of many diseases, but the chief disease with which the fly is associated as a carrier is typhoid fever, and so much has the thought of the fly as a carrier of this disease been heralded, that it is often called the "typhoid fly." With typhoid infected closets that are insanitary and not fly-proof, flies gain easy access, and their hairy body and legs, and soft sticky footpads afford the finest kind of a lodging place for such germ-laden filth as the fly delights to deposit himself in, to say nothing of that which he takes up in his stomach to be deposited later, either as regurgitated matter or as excrement. Also, if not rigidly kept out of the house by screens he seems an adept at smelling out the typhoid patient's room; and an improperly cared-for patient or patient's linen affords an especially delightful spot to the inquisitive fly, and again he loads up with the germs. So whether from infected closets, linen or other sources, he gaily trips to the table or toys, and in due course another patient

The Substance Of a Sermon Preached By Rev. H. Assiter

The apostle Paul said to Timothy, "Be Pitiful," and ever there was a need for the world's pity it is now. Pity is love to the suffering, the stricken, Love, not as a doctrine, but as a sacrifice. Christian pity is the best type, as it partakes of the nature of Christ, self-sacrificing, compassionate even to the death of the Cross. It is not cold philosophy, nor dead and dried divinity which will save the world, as, witness, where it has led Germany.

The nation that has glorified intellect and suppressed emotion for a generation, now glorifies brutality and unspeakable crime, and its great host of professors and divines have not one word to say in condemnation of the devilish doctrine and practice of "frightfulness."

Denis Garstin, in his book on "Friendly Russia," says: "The difference between Russia and German Culture is that the former comes from the heart and so, then, welcome to the slave and farewell to the Tonten. Nothing during this frightful war has so shocked the world as the utter callousness and indifference to human suffering which that country has shown. It looks upon its treatment of Belgium, Poland and Serbia unashamed and unrepentant. In our own loved land the deep fountains of human pity and tenderness have welled up in a beautiful and wonderful manner. A pity which does not consist of mere sentiment but is shown in earnest ministrations where the need is great and urgent the maimed and physically and mentally broken from the battlefields of Belgium and Flanders call loudly for our human Christian sympathy. Thousands of the brave lads have fallen and have been laid in nameless graves. Thousands of our splendid fellows with torn and shattered bodies are returning from the trenches to their homeland. And soon in every town and village of the land will be found these broken men, and when Government and hospitals have done their part it will remain for us to shoulder the responsibility of caring for these heroic men who have suffered and bled for us, by making it easy for them to lead a useful existence. Our pity should extend to the many bereaved ones, to the desolate homes and broken families. The 'Shadow' feared of men rests on thousands of our homes in this terrible war, on some the fall is like an avalanche, and if ever the call for comfort, sympathy and pity came to us as Christian people, it has come now! Practical sympathy and pity at such a time as this is more precious than rubies, and better than all the intellectual reasoning about the uses of adversity. Then there is that noble army of surgeons and nurses, who, at home and on the continent are doing their heroic and self-sacrificing work for the sick and wounded. Surely this sympathy of all who love God and man should be bountifully extended to them. The strain upon the brain and nerve must be most insupportable. Thanks be to God for the gracious ministry of these men and women! All such deserve our warm sympathy, and they shall have it. For each and everyone has heard the apostles call to 'bear one another's burdens' and so fulfil the law of Christ. Never before has the call come so powerfully, and never before has there been so universal a recognition of individual responsibility to our fellow men.

Never before has there been so great a need for the world's pity. The Spirit of God says to each of us "Be Pitiful," and pity is love to the suffering, the stricken. "Be pitiful," is the cry from the battlefield, the desolate home, both of our lands, of the Enemy. "Be Pitiful," is the earnest appeal of the Son of Man to the sons of men, and of the son of God to the sons of God.
